Careers Oral Report guidelines:

Your Oral report is a class presentation summarizing your Career Reports. The oral presentation is worth 25% of your grade (100/400) and will be an easy A if you follow the following guidelines:

- Practice your presentation in front of your family so that you are comfortable with what you plan to say.
- Make flash cards to keep your presentation organized.
- Do not read from your display board… know your material!
- Maintain eye contact with your audience.

Your presentation should be organized in the following manner:
- Introduce your project, and tell us why you chose these careers.
- Tell us about one career at a time, sharing the following information:
  - Tell us a general description of the career, including any interesting highlights from your research.
  - Tell us about the amount of education required for the career, and if there are opportunities for advancement with additional education or certifications.
  - Tell us about the salary range for someone working in this career. If there is opportunity to earn a higher salary with more educational training or with a particular certification, please share this information.
  - Share the information you learned from your interview.
